

Reading an On-Site Drug Test: Negative, Positive & Invalid Results

NEGATIVE

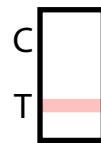

Variations in the thickness or darkness of the test line "T" are meaningless. A control line "C" plus any presence of a test line is a negative drug test result.

POSITIVE

A control line "C" with no test line "T" is a positive drug test result.

PLEASE NOTE: If the control line "C" is missing the test is considered invalid. If this is the case, please re-test the sample with a new test kit.
